Kevin Freitas | Butte County Behavioral Health Services

Kevin Freitas, ITE, is a Peer Support Specialist with Butte County Behavioral Health Mobile Crisis Team, co-responding with clinical staff and law enforcement to 911 emergency calls involving persons in emotional distress, or psychological/psychiatric crisis. In the 1970s, Kevin became involved with the human potential movement as an active participant and volunteer. Kevin's commitment to service includes training and professional experience in mental health education, substance abuse treatment and prevention, group leading, HIV prevention, and rape crisis intervention. He received his ITE (I'm The Evidence) through Crestwood Peer Personnel training in 2021. With over twenty years' recovery and resilience from clinical depression and substance use, Kevin now supports others' living experience, recovery, resilience, and pursuit of greater potential through his work, volunteerism, fundraising, and advocacy. Kevin is dedicated to the pursuit of A World That Works for Everyone With No One Left Out.
